... Tradition and modernity

Set Bavarian music band

Five musicians in traditional costumes not just on the drum, but play with trombone, trumpet, clarinet and tuba in the tavern, in the beer garden on the station platform, at a reception or in a convertible railroad car on.

The costume has a short, embroidered leather trousers on, white shirt, calf stockings and Haferlschuh as well the hats were equipped with feathers. Two of the musicians still have one Cardigan on.

The prototypical figures, matching the garden railway, are made of metal and hand-painted with UV-resistant paints.
